Art Unit: 3722

1. Claims 11, 13, 14, and 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. These claims use the term "elastic slide fit." The specification as originally filed does not define this term, such that it is not clear exactly what the characteristics of an elastic slide fit are. The examiner has attached a copy of page 193 from a Machine Design textbook, and it does not describe what an "elastic slide fit" is. Additionally, the examiner has checked several websites which discuss ANSI Standard B4.1-1967, and they don't discuss an elastic slide fit either. In view of the fact that "elastic slide fit" doesn't seem to have a clear definition, the scopes of these claims can not be determined.

2. It is noted that column 4, lines 56+ include a sentence which reads, "The surfaces 53 and 63 are preferably designed such that their cooperation results in some elastic deflection of the projection 60 due to the slide fit." While this sentence does not use or provide a definition for the term "elastic slide fit," this sentence provides language which can be used as a basis to amend the claims such that they are definite and have basis in the specification. While the examiner will not at this time provide an explicit suggestion for a permissible amendment which will overcome the above rejection, Applicants are welcome to contact the examiner while preparing their response in order to ask if a particular proposal will be acceptable.

3. The reissue oath/declaration filed with this application is defective because it fails to identify at least one error which is relied upon to support the reissue application. See 37 CFR 1.175(a)(1) and MPEP § 1414. Section (7) of the declaration states that Applicants were made aware of a German patent and other prior art, but section (7) does not explain what the actual "error" is. What elements in the prior art led Applicants to conclude that an error is present? Further, new claims 16-19 have been filed, but the differences between these claims and the original claims have not been pointed out in the declaration.

4. Claims 1-6, 8, and 10-19 are rejected as being based upon a defective reissue declaration under 35 U.S.C. 251 as set forth above. See 37 CFR 1.175.

The nature of the defect(s) in the declaration is set forth in the discussion above in this Office action.

5. The original patent, or a statement as to loss or inaccessibility of the original patent, must be received before this reissue application can be allowed. See 37 CFR 1.178.
